

HOLOGRAM LABELS

NovaVision offers hologram labels for many security applications to protect your products, event tickets, ID badges, etc.

Our security holograms combine stock and custom hologram images, tamper evident materials, consecutive serial numbers, barcodes, special inks, and other materials to produce a product that meets your security and budget requirements.

Express Holograms

Our express holograms are our most economical holograms.

Generic holograms are generally intended for one-time events or applications where using a low-security solution is appropriate. It's important to know the limitations of express hologram label security because our generic images are widely available from other marketers and distributors.

Stock Holograms with Custom Imprints

We offer a variety of affordable stock hologram labels, which can be custom imprinted with your company name, logo, consecutive serial number, and other features. There is no minimum order quantity.

Although the imprint is durable for most applications, we also offer and recommend optional laminated labels to fully protect the custom imprint from excessive handling, wear, or chemical exposure

Custom Holograms

For increased security, NovaVision offers fully customizable holograms. We offer custom design options to fit your security needs and budget. All custom holograms are designed and produced at our secure facility in Ohio.

Additionally, we register your custom image with the International Hologram Manufacturer's Association (IHMA) to minimize the chance of another reputable hologram manufacturer inadvertently replicating your custom image.

Color Holograms

NovaVision carries color holograms that can be custom imprinted with your company name, logo, consecutive serial number, and other features. The colored metallic hologram label includes a tamper evident feature, which self-destructs the hologram image when removed from the original surface.

Transparent Holograms

Transparent holograms are typically used for identification credentials. We offer stock and custom transparent holograms. Since underlying information can be seen through the transparent hologram label, it is also an affordable method of re-validating an existing ID card.